Brand New Book ***** Print on Demand *****.Excerpt from A Lecture on the Uncertainties of History: Delivered in the Hall of the House of Representatives of the United States, Before the Capitol Hill Institute, December 17, 1842 It has been an interesting enquiry in all ages - What is the Truth? At the foundation of this enquiry, whether relating to science, the arts, politics, or religion, has been an early, if not the greatest question - What is the truth in History? What does it show, on the momentous topics - Whence came we? When? Where? Why? Whither do we tend? What have been the chief instruments to advance, or retard, the human race? How long is its progress to last? And what, for greater weal or woe, is to be the consummation of its destiny? Considerations like these are vital to all. But, on this occasion, I do not propose to glance at any of them, except the uncertainties which exist in much of history. These, with their evils and their cure, deserve the careful attention of all who would improve the condition of the world. It will be perceived, by allusions already made, that it is not uncertainties in the history of monarchs and battles merely, to which I refer, or in humble pedigrees confined to books of heraldry and family coats-of-arms, but it is those in history in its broadest sense, including what relates to the literature, and the general progress and great moral movements of society, as well as remarkable changes in rulers and forms of government. So, the uncertainties themselves, to which your attention is invited, are not merely the outright falsehoods and blunders, in which some annals abound,...
